

Dear Healthcare Professional,

Novalac Allergy Infant Formula Supply Update

Bayer Australia Ltd (Bayer) is advising healthcare professionals and consumers that limited stock of Novalac Allergy will be available and released to pharmacies in Australia during June, July and August.

Intermittent supply and limited availability in pharmacies across Australia will continue until supply returns to normal levels.

We understand that those requiring Novalac Allergy are a vulnerable patient group, and parents/carers with concerns about what to feed their infant should speak to their healthcare professional about alternatives.

- Limited stock of Novalac Allergy will be available and released to pharmacies in Australia during June, July and August.
- Intermittent supply and limited availability in pharmacies across Australia will continue until supply returns to normal levels.
- All other products within the Novalac Range are not suitable for infants diagnosed with cow's milk protein allergy.
- GPs, Allergy and Paediatric Specialists can contact the Bayer Medical Information Team on behalf of patients to discuss compassionate / critical medical cases on 1800 008 757 or email medinfo.anz@bayer.com

Please be assured that our priority is to continue to work with the global manufacturing partner to increase ongoing supply.

An update on stock availability will be provided in August.

Yours sincerely,

The Infant Nutrition Team
